Open Your Eyes.

The habit of going through the world with the eyes shut is an inveterate ne, common in all times. In old time the prophets and the great Teacher himseif reproached their disciples with this failing. "Eyes have ye, and see not," said they. True, it was a failure to perceive spiritual truth in their case. All our faculties, bodily, mental, spiritual, are given to us for use, and we are held to be responsible for neg-lect of them, as was that servant in the parable who went and hid in the earth that talent that his lord had entrusted to bim. Sufficient stress i not laid upon the use and abuse of our bodily faculties or the neglect of them. Do but consider how much pleasure we debar ourselves from when we shut this the chief of Five Gateways of Knowledge. How beautiful is the world in the cool, clear, juminous air of early dawn, and yet how many, think you, have ever stopped to take in that beauty, if they by chance have been abroad at that hour?-Exchange.

It has often been demonstrated that the schoolmaster is needed among the forts at composition have been made in brigade orders. A certain major ordained not long ago this: "Reveille will be at 3:30 a. m. The brigade will parade at 1 a. m. The brigade will move at 4:15 a. m. The sun will rise at 5 a. m." It was during the guerrilla war of 1901-02; after the building of the blockhouses, that it became neces-sary to check the habit of the men of sleeping outside the blockhouses for the sake of coolness and comfort, A certain staff officer thereupon issued the following quaint order: "No one is permitted to sleep outside the block-houses except the centries." Though the intention of this order is clear, its phraseology is not, "Men on outpost duty are forbidden to strike matches

The First Iron Bridge. The first iron bridge ever erected in the world and which is in constant use at the present time spans a little river in the county of Salon, on the railroad leading from Shrewsbury to Worcester, England. It was built in the year 1778 and is exactly ninety-six feet in length. The total amount of iron used in its construction was 378 tons. Stephenson, the great engineer, in writing concerning it, said, "When we consider the fact that the casting of iron was at that time in its infancy, we are convinced that unblushing at ducity alone could conceive and earry into execution such an undertaking."
